Be Prepared and Save Money with FIRST DAY®

Get An Edge on Academic Success

When students Opt-In, the cost of course materials is added as a digital course materials fee for the course, by UCF, and students receive the benefits including:

- Deeply discounted, lowest price materials
- The guaranteed right materials
- Single Sign-On (no access codes)
- Access on or before the first day of class

Not having to wait for books, means you are prepared on the First Day of class.

Don't Miss Out

Students need to Opt-In on Webcourses@UCF for each material they want to participate in the First Day program.

- Opt-In option available once the professor opens their course but no later than the Sunday before classes start.
- Deadline is the first week of class.

*During the opt-in period, students will have free access to the publisher material. Once the Drop/Add window closes, if the students did not Opt-In, then students will lose their free access and will need to purchase the materials elsewhere.

Easy Way to Pay

When students choose to “opt-in” to First Day®, they will not be expected to pay at that time. Instead, their UCF student account will get after the Opt-In deadline, and they will be responsible for payment when their account comes due.

Log into Webcourses@UCF and click on the Course Materials tab see if you are enrolled in a First Day course
